David Brant RIP

The Thanksgiving service for David will be held at Christ Church, Radlett on Tuesday 12th September at 1.00pm.

Coffee/Concert morning last Saturday

I think we were all amazed at Joshua Harris who came to play for us at the Coffee/Concert last Saturday. Playing some of the really difficult pieces in the classical repertoire he showed an extraordinary skill and ability and clearly has a great future ahead of him.

We thank him for coming along and starting off our First Saturday in the month coffee/concert mornings and also thank those that provided the refreshments which raised around £250.

NEXT MONTH will be the Harvest Festival weekend and the morning music will be provided by students from Merchant Taylors School. In November we will be entertained by Adrienne Freeman and her friends who also played for us at the Art Festival Preview Night.

Art Festival.

I am quite sure you don't need reminding about the Art Festival which is running over this weekend and the following weekend. We hope to see you along with your friends at some point, there is a wealth of beautiful art that you can admire while enjoying some tea and cake!

If you are coming to church you will get the chance to admire it or if you are watching on the stream there will be some different views this week showing some of the work.

Order of Service

FAMILY SERVICE NON COMMUNION

Greeting

Opening hymn 'Lord of beauty, Thine the splendour' (NEH 265)

Prayer/Collect

Almighty and ever-loving God who has created the earth and the heavens with such beauty, light and colour and given us eyes to see and enjoy your creation, and the artist skills to interpret and portray the beauty of every aspect and dimension of life, may our delight and wonder ever grow and be renewed and see your hand in all creation.

Confession/Absolution

Hymn: 'All things bright and beautiful' (NEH 264)

Bible Reading: Genesis 1, 1 - 19 read by Amber Pinkerton.

In the beginning when God created the heavens and the earth, the earth was a formless void and darkness covered the face of the deep, while a wind from God swept over the face of the waters. Then God said, 'Let there be light'; and there was light. And God saw that the light was good; and God separated the light from the darkness. God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And there was evening and there was morning, the first day.

And God said, 'Let there be a dome in the midst of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters.' So God made the dome and separated the waters that were under the dome from the waters that were above the dome. And it was so. God called the dome Sky. And there was evening and there was morning, the second day.

And God said, 'Let the waters under the sky be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appear.' And it was so. God called the dry land Earth, and the waters that were gathered together he called Seas. And God saw that it was good. Then God said, 'Let the earth put forth vegetation: plants yielding seed, and fruit trees of every kind on earth that bear fruit with the seed in it.' And it was so. The earth brought forth vegetation: plants yielding seed of every kind, and trees of every kind bearing fruit with the seed in it. And God saw that it was good. And there was evening and there was morning, the third day.

And God said, 'Let there be lights in the dome of the sky to separate the day from the night; and let them be for signs and for seasons and for days and years, and let them be lights in the dome of the sky to give light upon the earth.' And it was so. God made the two great lights—the greater light to rule the day and the lesser light to rule the night—and the stars. God set them in the dome of the sky to give light upon the earth, to rule over the day and over the night, and to separate the light from the darkness. And God saw that it was good. And there was evening and there was morning, the fourth day.
